Fact sheet: State of Adaptation in Africa Report (SoAR)

The State of Adaptation in Africa Report (SoAR) will be developed under Activity 3 in AAI's Phase 3 2020-2023 Work Plan.

It will be a comprehensive report to fill knowledge gaps and provide an overall view of the gaps and opportunities for adaptation action in Africa. This will be produced every two years. To develop State of the Adaptation in Africa Report every two years will serve to routinely highlight the gaps and opportunities for enhancing adaptation in Africa. It will increase knowledge and understanding on the status of adaptation in Africa.

The Report will also include a business case for investing in adaptation. Work to develop each Report will include consultations as well as development of background papers (informed by other initiatives under AAI Phase 3).

To achieve further transformative action, AAI has timed Activity 3 around the 2020 Adaptation Summit, targeted as a critical moment to launch the first State of Adaptation in Africa Report (SoAR). Advance plans are even in place for the presentation for the first SoAR at COP 26.

Partners include TSU and AMCEN.
